STOLID ORIENTAL RE-ENACTS REVOLTING MURDER OF ELSIE

GRIM DETAILS OF HER DEATH FIGHT

Chung Sin Helped Dispose of the Body When Called From His Cooking by Leon Ling

POLICE SAY HE KNOWS MORE

Yellow Heathen, Terrified by Officers, Goes Into Hands of Unrelenting "Degree" Team

NEW YORK, June 23.—In the dim, close room of Leon Ling, with its grinning josses and its pictures of the Madonna gazing down on the scene where the dead body of Elsie Sigel was found packed in a trunk last Friday, Chung Sin, roommate of Leon Ling, today re-enacted the tragedy of the girl, as he saw it through the keyhole of his room adjoining.

Stolidly smoking a cigarette and occasionally cracking his yellow visage into a sardonic smile, he described the strangling of the girl as she lay on the bed in the shadow of the red canopy, but denied that he had anything to do with the killing or that he had any knowledge of the whereabouts of his missing countryman.

District Attorney Jerome and the police are confident, however, that Chung has not told all he knows, and announce their intention to keep at him with the "third degree" until he tells all.

After his partial confession to District Attorney Jerome yesterday afternoon, Chung was kept under a cross fire of questions all through the night. Early today with Captain Carey of the homicide bureau, half a dozen of his detectives and Assistant District Attorney Ward, the haggard Chinese was led to the house in Eighth avenue. As he was led shackled to a detective up the long rickety stairs to the top floor of the tenement his Asiatic composure gave way for a moment and he shivered violently. He recovered, however, and entered the musty, oriental room—tightly closed since the discovery of the body—with an air of nonchalance. He was closely followed by the police and old Quad Yick Nam, the wizened interpreter.

Oriental Terrified.
"You killed Elsie Sigel!" shouted Carey as soon as the door was closed.

"Me no kill. You find Leon. He do it!" shrieked Chung Sin, in a rage as he covered in a corner of the room. Then he took refuge behind his stock answer, "Me no understand English."

"Why do you lie like that?" shouted Carey, and he jumped for the Chinaman, clutching his collar as if to choke the life out of him. Then the Chinaman yelled.

"Me tell truth! Me tell truth now!" he shrieked to question after question he gave the minute details of the revolting tragedy which has shocked the country.

Watched Murder Impassively.
The yellow man calmly admitted he had seen Leon strangle the missionary girl to death with her own handkerchief as she lay on the bed without raising a hand to help her or to call for help.

"I heard scuffling," related Chung, as he puffed his cigarette, "that made me wake up. The sound came from Leon's room and I got up and look through the keyhole."

"Tell us exactly what you saw in that room," yelled Carey.

"Elsie Sigel, the girl, was on the bed," stated Chung, quietly. "Leon was bending over her. He seemed to be fighting her or play fighting her. I saw a handkerchief with blood on it sticking in the girl's mouth. When I saw the blood I knew it was real fighting. She fought hard and he was pressing the handkerchief into her mouth."

"Finally she didn't fight no more. She lay still. Then Leon stood up and looked around the room. Then he look back at the girl."

For a minute no questions were asked as the hardened police officials tried to grasp the enormity of the thing this yellow man was telling them. Then, "Go on," said Carey, quietly.

"This was about half past twelve. I know because I soon go down stairs and the cook is making meals. It

LEON HIDING IN GUISE OF WOMAN

Underground Haunts of Orientals Being Searched by Detectives in Chicago

WAS FEMALE IMPERSONATOR

Yellow Fugitive Came to New York With Troupe of Players; Chinese Women Examined

NEW YORK, June 23.—"Look for Leon Ling, disguised as a woman, hiding in the secret subterranean haunts of your Chinatown, where the celestials conceal the females of their race."

This in effect is the latest order sent out by the New York police in the search for the alleged murderer of Elsie Sigel, the girl missionary. It followed the receipt of a letter by Assistant District Attorney Ward today informing that Leon came here eleven years ago with a Chinese theatrical troupe and that he was a female impersonator. He played the parts of women for years, the letter says, and is so expert in assuming the role of a female that he deceives his most intimate friends.

Practiced It Before.
It is said that when Leon has been in cities where Chinese women openly appear on the streets, as in San Francisco, he has used this training to accomplish his purposes in many of the plots in which he is known to have been involved.

This new information has given strength to the belief that Leon has made his way to one of the Pacific coast cities or to New Orleans or Galveston, where the Chinese colonies are strong.

From Washington it is thought he probably went to New Orleans and there, perhaps with the aid of smugglers who have been engaged in bringing Chinese into this country from Mexico, crossed the Rio Grande and again entered the United States from lower California, being secretly conveyed to San Francisco, where he could probably hide with more safety than in any other city on the continent.

This journey might have been accomplished, the police say, without those who aided him knowing the object of his flight.

Mysterious Underground "Tong."
Leon is a member of the Geo Chong Tong, the revolutionary society, the objective of which is to overthrow the present government of China and which is very strong in most American and South American cities. If Leon had pretended to be on some important secret mission for this Tong he would have the aid of one of the most extensive underground organizations in the world and his movements would have been so successfully concealed that they would have been utterly hidden and beyond the power of the police to trace.

In the disguise of a woman it is believed that Leon could hope to escape detection until he could board a trans-Pacific steamer.

Examine Chinese Women.

CHICAGO, June 23.—Following the receipt of advices from New York that Leon Ling wanted in connection with the murder of Elsie Sigel might be hidden in a Chicago colony disguised as a woman, Captain of Detectives O'Brien today sent a special squad of detectives into Chinatown with orders to examine every woman there as to the knowledge she might have as to Leon's whereabouts.

Chinatown Terrified.
Today's raid of Chinatown in an effort to discover Leon disguised as a woman only increased the terror in which the district has been for three days. The news of the raid spread like wildfire among the celestials and before noon hardly a Chinaman was to be seen on the streets.

Inspector John Wheeler, in charge of the police work in Chinatown, issued the following warning this afternoon:

"All missionaries who are employed in missions in Chinatown are warned by the police department to take extra precautions in protecting themselves. In view of the murder of Miss Sigel, the woman who has business in Chinatown is cautioned and any woman will be granted the protection of a uniformed officer if desired."

LARGE DEMAND FOR CHAUTAUQUASEATS

All Leading Stores Report Demand for Tickets Is Even Larger Than Anticipated

Practically all of the stores in La Crosse are selling season tickets to the Chautauqua which opens here June 28th, and continues until July 4th, and all report a large demand for advance tickets. There is every reason to believe that the attendance this year will be nearly double that of last year, which marked the first appearance of the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua system in this vicinity.

The season tickets purchased in advance may be secured for $1.50, whereas if purchased is delayed until the opening of the Chautauqua the price is advanced to $2.00. People are taking advantage of this opportunity to save a half dollar in buying tickets to what will be one of the greatest intellectual and entertainment treats which has ever visited this section of the state.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR KILLS IN JEALOUSY

COLUMBUS, O., June 23.—W. R. Puryear, assistant to Prof. F. C. Caldwell, in the electrical college at Ohio State University, shot and killed his brother-in-law, Fred West, and then fired a bullet into his own head at the West home this afternoon shortly after one o'clock.

HILDEBRAND AGREES WITH COMMISSIONER

In a conference this morning between contractor Hildebrand and James Day of the board of public works, it was decided that Mr. Hildebrand should remove whatever part of the sewer which had been finished and was found defective, that he could lay part of the sewer by the tunnel system where he had already constructed the tunnel, and a remainder of the sewer should be constructed as the board specified, by the open ditch system.

MINE EXPLOSION MAY DESTROY 65

Wehrum Fire Snuffs Out Three Lives and Six Others Are Known to Be Fatally Injured

WEHRUM, Pa., June 23.—Fire broke out at 12:30 this afternoon in mine No. 4 of the Lackawanna Coal and Coke company, where an explosion occurred this morning, and it is now feared that sixty-five men, who still are entombed in the mine, may be burned to death. A telephone message from the scene of the disaster says that three miners are dead; five or six of the workers are fatally burned and 25 are badly injured.

Shortly after noon word was sent to the Cambria Steel company at Johnstown to forward with all dispatch to the mine at Wehrum all the oxygen tanks the company might have in its possession.

Black damp has increased to such an extent in the mine that the work of the rescuers is being seriously hampered.

The company was also asked to send assistance for the purpose of fighting the flames, which it has been ascertained were raging shortly after noon in the various parts of the mine.

MRS. GOULD DRANK LIKE "PERFECT LADY"

NEW YORK, June 23.—Dustin Farnum's name came prominently into the Gould separation suit again today following the announcement, embarrassing to Mrs. Gould, by Mrs. Mabel E. Sells that Mrs. Gould had expressed her desire to return to the stage and that she would wish Dustin Farnum as her leading man.

Further evidence to prove that Mrs. Gould never drank more than a "perfect lady should," was introduced.

Mrs. Sells swore Mrs. Gould was only a "moderate" drinker, whose luncheon drink menu usually consisted of "only a cocktail, a small bottle of wine and a cordial."

A number of Mrs. Gould's restaurant checks were introduced, a sample being the following:

10:50 a. m.—One Manhattan, one quart White Rock; total, 70 cents.
11:30 a. m.—One Manhattan, half portion ragout of lamb, peach pie, pint of No. 7; total, $3.80.
3:38 p. m.—One Manhattan, one White Rock, one Manhattan; total, 80 cents.
7:15 p. m.—Pint of No. 178, one Manhattan, pint of Apollinaris, a quart of White Rock; total, $3.25.

Linker Hall Packed With Enthusiastic Sympathizers of Locked Out Men Last Night

SHAW'S INSULTS ARE CITED

International Official in Stirring Speech Tells of Humiliation of Men by Superintendent

At an enthusiastic mass meeting held last night at Linker hall, under the auspices of the Typographical Union, attended by representatives of all of the locals in the city, the union men expressed their sympathy for and pledged their support to the locked out carmen in a set of resolutions unanimously adopted, as follows:

Resolution Pledges Aid.
"Whereas, the La Crosse City Railway company directors saw fit to issue an order discharging from employment all employees refusing to relinquish membership in their organization and declaring it the purpose of the company to further deny employment to any union man; and, "Whereas, to carry out the policy of denying further employment to its old employees, the said company has brought to our city strike-breakers from the low element of other cities, who are unacquainted with our streets or people and who are of a character naturally unsafe as street railway employees to operate their cars; and,

"Whereas, the said strike-breakers are not of a character to be welcomed as an element in our community and their presence among us is of an immoral influence and the conduct of the company directors in their arbitrary overriding of public opinion and refusal to arbitrate is most reprehensible, therefore be it

"Resolved, that this meeting, held under the auspices of La Crosse Typographical Union No. 448, June 22, 1909, hereby condemns the arbitrary and unreasonable attitude of the La Crosse City Railway company and pledges our unqualified support to the locked-out street railway employees, to the end that they secure reinstatement to their former positions with (Continued on page 7.)

BOB COWIE TO GET PAUL DRESSER'S JOB

MADISON, Wis., June 23.—(Special.)—One and probably two new appointments may be made to the state board of control, following the publication of the new board law tonight. Judge R. S. Cowie of Trempealeau may get the place of L. B. Dresser.

Mrs. I. D. Willtrout of Eau Claire, is making a fight for Alma Frisby's position as woman member. All other members probably will be re-appointed Friday. Dr. F. R. Farr, Eau Claire, is urged in place of Grotzphorst.

It is believed the job of Dresser is given to Cowie to "square it" with him for his defeat in the race for the 6th district bench against E. C. Higbee. Dresser was one of the state officials who received a large sum of Stephenson money during the recent senatorial primary. Cowie also spent some of the Stephenson fund, and aided the governor in his fight against Herman L. Ekern when the latter was defeated for the assembly by A. T. Twesme.

BLACK HAND GOES BOLDLY INTO COURT

CHICAGO, June 23.—Extra police officers are stationed in Judge Windes' courtroom today to prevent any violence to the prisoner or witnesses in a trial there by members of the blackhand society following what is believed to have been a threat yesterday. While Bruno Nardi, indicted with Joseph Bertucci on a charge of shooting to death Vito Umbrello, was testifying, a roughly dressed Italian entered the courtroom and looking at Nardi drew out a red handkerchief and waved it at him. Nardi was frightened and at once refused to answer any questions saying: "I'm afraid I'll be killed if I talk."

MAYOR DEMANDS SERVICE

Under City Charter Forces Company to Give Cars Until 10 P. M.; Company Expects Trouble

La Crosse merchants, members of the La Crosse Progressive association, Grocers' association and board of trade will be asked to take a position in the street car lockout today. Merchants complain that the strike has crippled their business as a large part of the women of the city refuse to ride on the cars or are afraid of riding on a car with inexperienced motormen in charge, and many of them do not like to walk. As a consequence they say, shopping is lighter than it has been for months. A petition is being circulated this afternoon in the shopping districts and is being generally signed. The petition is addressed to the street railway company and asks the company to grant the demands of the locked out employees or effect some compromise with the men which will restore ordinary business conditions.

Mr. Edwards' Statement.
The following statement is made by Mr. B. F. Edwards, president of the La Crosse City Railway company, with reference to the matters in difference between the company and the union:

"The grievances originally complained of and which were taken up at a meeting between a committee of the employees and the company's directors, about May 12, 1909, were heard and answered by the company and all real differences were adjusted. The action of the union after its organization in the demands which they made upon the company was such that it was impossible for the company to run an open shop and it became necessary to have either a shop closed against union or non-union men. The company chose the former alternative.

"The company's employees are better paid than the employees of street railways in any other town of this size in the state of Wisconsin, and the treatment is absolutely fair and just, the average hours of service being about 11 hours to 11 hours 20 minutes, with the exception of the run of one car, the 11:20 p. m. car, which goes to North La Crosse. The average run of this car is 11 hours and 40 minutes. As far as possible, we make it a point to retain our old men and much prefer to pay them (Continued on Page 6)

CHERRY CIRCLE AND N. Y. A. C. TO MEET

CHICAGO, June 23.—The Chicago Athletic Association has challenged the Irish-American and the New York Athletic clubs of New York for a triangular meet here August 14 and if it is accepted the meet will prove one of the biggest athletic meets ever held in this part of the country. Both clubs contain some of the best athletes in America. No reply to the challenge has been received.

WISCONSIN SHOWS UP WELL

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 23.—The oarsmen at Poughkeepsie had ideal rowing weather last night and every college crew was sent out for a nice long pull on the river, which was as smooth as a mill pond. The Penn eight and the Badgers had an impromptu brush but a ferry boat butted in and for a time it looked as though both shells would be run down Penn backed water and Wisconsin shot across the bows of the boat. The Badgers are showing up in good form and Ten Eyck is well pleased with the boat.

WAUKON, IOWA

The startling news was received Monday by telegram of the death by drowning of "Coon" Arnold, an old settler here. He had been in poor health through the winter and had gone to Minneapolis to stay for the summer with his daughter, Mrs. Falconette. No particulars were received.

Capt. J. H. Hale "chaperoned" a party of young people for a picnic on the Iowa.

M. J. Barthell and B. A. Barthell went to Flandreau Monday to be present at the wedding of their niece, Minnie Fargu, which occurred on the 22nd. Mrs. M. J. Mrs. Meier and son and Madam Barthell went on Thursday.

Dr. Letourneau in phoning from McGregor to La Crosse, where he had sent a patient, was discovered by Mr. Seindon, an old friend and school mate, whom he had not seen for 34 years. Neither knew the other had been in the boys that parted so long ago.

The institute attendance this week has gone up to 173, the high water mark. Only seven boys in that number.

Miss Lydia Opfer, who is in La Crosse for treatment is much better. Bayard lodge, K. of P. moved into their new quarters Monday evening and now have as nice a lodge room as is to be found in this part of the state.

W. B. Cowan has been appointed oil inspector. His term begins July 1. A meeting was held Monday evening to prepare for a big welcome to Bryan on July 5th, the first day of the Chautauqua.

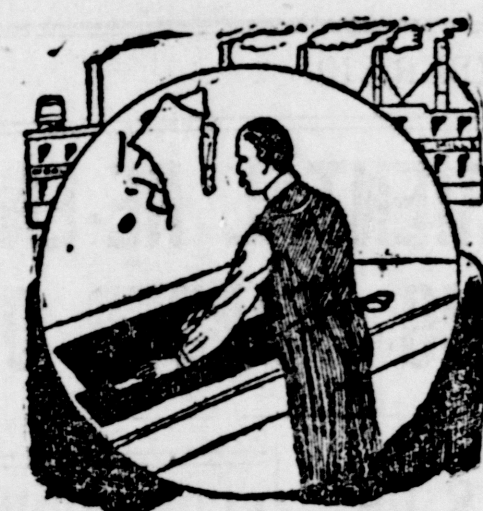

Miss Hazel Stillman was elected to be the new primary teacher in the public school.

P. N. Heiser and Harry went to Minneapolis for a visit with relatives. H. J. Bentley, Miss Ruth and Roy are home for the summer.

Miss Katie Colsch left Thursday for her trip to Portland, Ore.

At the annual meeting of the German Farmers' Insurance meeting the following officers were elected: President, S. H. Opfer; vice president, Henry Hager; secretary-treasurer, C. G. Helming; directors, John Flage.

The chief attraction of the afternoon was the sprint between Kraker and Pitcher Pfeffer, from the fence to the foul line, the tall pitcher winning by about 10 yards. Klein acted as starter and judge.

During the downpour, the fans were entertained by baseball stories in one section of the stand, and in another part a few fans and a crowd of small boys were listening to tales of the Chicago street car strike.

The visiting players were taken back in a bus while most of the Outcasts walked.

The first real doubleheader of the season will be seen here Saturday afternoon, when the local aggregation meets Killian's team from the Gate City. The postponed game of May 15 will be played off that afternoon.

La Crosse will play at Winona Friday, returning here for the doubleheader Saturday, going to the Gate City for Sunday's game and then returning here for another doubleheader Monday.

This is a strenuous schedule but the locals are more than anxious to win six games from the up-river team in four days.

But one game was played in the Minny league yesterday, the grounds at Eau Claire being in such a condition that no game could be played at that place.

Both Willette and Waddell pitched fine ball, but the Detroit Americans were fortunate in bunting a double, single and infield out in the sixth, thereby scoring the only run of the game. St. Louis filled the bases in the fifth, but could not score. An injured finger forced Catcher Stephens to retire from the game.

Cleveland took both games of a doubleheader from Chicago. The scores were 3 to 2 and 2 to 0. Walsh made a balk in the ninth inning of the first game that allowed Easterly to score the winning run for the Cleveland team. Chicago outbatted Cleveland in the second, but failed to bunch hits when needed.

Boston won from New York in a poorly played game 9 to 6 yesterday. Lake was batted hard in the third inning, giving the Boston team a safe lead. Lord's batting was a feature.

The Philadelphia team bunched all of their hits in three innings, and easily defeated Washington by 6 to 1. Browne injured his leg in running out his three base hit in the fourth inning, and was compelled to leave the game.

All the scheduled games in the National league were called off yesterday because of the funeral of George Dovey, the former president of the Boston club.

NEW PARTY LINES

People are beginning to see that party alignment is all wrong, as it now exists in this country, because within the same party lines are progressives and standpatters, pro-trust
and anti-trust ideas, advance and reactionary thought. And, because they are in the same party lines, the reactionary and progressive are expected to vote together and harmonize their irreconcilable differences. The new alignment is nearly due; and it cannot come too soon.

Discussing an editorial in the Charlotte (N. C.) Observer, the Milwaukee Journal points out that southern protectionists are paving the way to this change by driving together the progressives of both parties. The Journal says:

Protection is an established national policy, argues The Observer,
and the burden of its editorial is that the south which must pay its share of the burden of protection, should insist upon its share of the benefits of protection, not only for its cotton but for its coal, its iron ore, its lumber and its other products. In the north and east, it declares, the supplies of coal and iron and lumber are becoming exhausted, and those sections are willing to have these raw materials imported free, but the south with great supplies of these articles still in reserve, needs protection
as much as the north and east
ever did and should insist upon it.

This is astounding doctrine for a democratic newspaper, particularly a southern democratic newspaper, to preach. The policy of the party is clearly defined. A democrat can no more advocate a high protective tariff and remain a democrat than he can advocate prohibition and remain a democrat. A democrat who advocates protection ceases to be a democrat and becomes a republican—a special privilege republican. And yet there is no doubt that, in large measure, The Observer speaks for the south, and that its utterances show
the marked and perhaps irresistible tendency of the south to break away from its democratic moorings and cast its lot with the republican party.
This tendency is caused not by any new discovery in political economy
but by economic changes in the south—the growth of production and manufacturing in that section. The south simply wants to get its share of the "pork." The Observer itself says so in somewhat different words.
In the same article The Observer makes a very plain threat that the

VANDERBILT WINS COACHING MARATHON

LONDON, June 23.—While America felt keenly her disappointment in not winning the great Derby, still the success of Alfred G. Vanderbilt in the coaching marathon has again brought praise on the American horse.

The coaching marathon is a new departure and was the big event of the international horse show. Twenty-four four-hands participated in the race from Hampton court to the show

and the Vanderbilt grays, which have gained a world wide reputation, made the remarkable time of 44 minutes and 5 seconds. Another coach driven by Judge Moore of Chicago accomplished the distance in a little less time, but in coming fast he badly
balked his horses and lost points thereby, for the race was decided not on time alone, but on the general appearance of the team after they had finished.

Aldrich wanted to add any of the members of the Finance Committee or any other member in favor of this plan. He is not in favor of it himself, although he purposes to stand by
it.

Mr. Aldrich has another card up his sleeve. He does not propose that there shall be any vote to submit a constitutional amendment for an income tax at this session of Congress. He has so involved and befogged
the whole issue that he believes there will be good excuse to refer the matter to the Judiciary committee. President Taft it is understood, has again unwittingly aided in this matter by at this late hour in the session sending word privately to the members of the Finance Committee that he wants that corporation tax bill drawn so as to do away with holding companies. This is a worthy thing. It should be accomplished. But to thrust it in on the heels of a session of congress which is framing a tariff bill is hardly chosen as a time when the best results can be secured. The thrusting of this question in at this time only has one result and that is to still further befuddle the minds of Congressmen to muddy the water and to make new reasons why the whole matter
should be referred to the Judiciary committee. This is just what Mr. Aldrich desires. It is delay. Delays are always dangerous to the interests of the public. The Progressive Republicans do not propose to be caught.
They propose to secure a vote upon
the question of an income tax.
Right in this connection it should be born in mind that it only requires a majority vote of the congress to get an income tax while to submit a constitutional amendment authorizing congress to adopt an income tax requires a vote of two thirds of the membership of each House after which that action must be concurred
in by three fourths of the states. It is a grave question whether two-thirds of the senate even under the lash of the executive would vote to submit constitutional amendment of this character to the states for ratification.

Even should the constitutional amendment get by the senate twelve states could reject it and it would be without effect. The following states can be counted upon to reject such an amendment: Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, Florida, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Utah, West Virginia, Colorado. The interests are also counting upon Vermont as another state that would line up against the income tax amendment. The influence of the Mormon church in Utah, Idaho, Colorado, Wyoming and possibly Montana would be sufficiently strong to carry three of these states against it. All of these states would be used to nullify a constitutional amendment through the action of their legislatures. The pressure would be brought to bear in these states not to call special conventions for the purpose of taking action upon the proposed constitutional amendment but to rely upon

The orderly manner in which the strikes are conducting themselves
betrays the implication in the presence here of a lot of burly pug-nazles who are presumed to overawe the men. Regardless of the merits of the street car quarrel, it would seem that the local police could have kept order among forty odd carmen without the intervention of state troops or an array of Falstaffian Cupid such as enchant the ladies forced to pass
Fourth and Main streets.

Last night The Tribune was the only La Crosse newspaper to publish the story of the confession of Chung Sin fixing the murder of Elsie Sigel upon Leon Ling. This story was the sensational of the week, and doubtless owing to inadequacy of their telegraph reports. It did not appear in either the Leader-Press or the Chronicle, although they are probably the only daily papers in United States that did not get the story in some form.

Governor Davidson has appointed a successor to Game Warden Stone, which is fair enough. However, one wonders if he gave Stone that $1,200
which the deputy wardens contributed to his $800 campaign expenses.

IN THE NATION'S CAPITOL

(By John J. Hannan
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—
There is certainly a fine mix-up over the corporation tax question. It is an easy matter to declare in favor of a corporation tax but it is a difficult matter to frame that tax law
so that it will include the corporations that ought to be included and exempt those that should be exempt.
The pressure has commenced to come from the country. The creamery associations throughout the west and the cheese factories that are organized as corporations see in the plan scheme which will include them and they do not see how the bonds of Carnegie, Rockefeller and all of that class are to be taxed. Small manufacturing companies that do an interstate commerce business are making themselves felt and it is even now suggested that Mr. Aldrich will not be able to hold the members of his Finance Committee in favor of this form of taxation. Of course no one would seriously suggest that Mr.

the action of the legislature which would not be elected with special reference to this subject but the choice of which would be complicated with all of the local issues which are up in the various states.

It is now said that Senator Root
who belonged to that chosen band who advised the president upon this matter and permitted him to fall into the error of saying that the income tax of 1894 was still in force
is giggling back and is very doubtful whether he can support any corporation tax. It begins to look very much as though a lot of gentlemen jumped into the water without knowing the depth, and that they are now floundering around looking for someone to throw them a life saver. Of course the best life saver that could be given these gentlemen would be the enactment of an income tax law.
But Mr. Aldrich doesn't want that and Mr. Root doesn't want that and it begins to look as though the president doesn't want that. If they don't get an income tax law, Mr. Aldrich will get just what he wants, postponement, time to rally his lines and to ultimately defeat the effort to tax incomes.

and Wanton Wiles

Discriminating Auntie Jane
Dear Auntie Jane of Hesperstown
"Admires" a kindly thought;
To criticize our fellow she is sure we "hadn't ought."
The picture of a murderer
She views with gaze precise,
And says, with deprecating smile,
"His nose is rather nice."

Old Auntie's way may not be curs,
But, still, suppose we try
To look about, for once, with her Discriminating eye.
The greedy magnates of a trust
Are hard to be endured;
But, view them closer, friends—ah!
Their nails are manicured.

Behold the Black Hand agent with His stick of dynamite.
Don't look with such abhorrence,
sirs—
His teeth are very white!
Night riders, too, may whip and slay
Throughout the countryside;
But, when about to burn a barn,
How gracefully they ride.

The grafting politician has
His enemies; but my!
(As Auntie Jane would say) he wears
An awful pretty tie!
And from the great prosperity
All these enjoy, 'tis plain,
The words are full of folks who think
Like dear old Auntie Jane.

The "Still Small Voice"
The moral of this story may be that it is better to heed the warnings of the "still small voice" before it is driven to the use of the telephone.

A New York lawyer, gazing idly
out of his window, saw a sight in an office across the street that made him rub his eyes and look again.
Yes, there was no doubt about it.
The pretty stenographer was sitting upon the gentleman's lap. The lawyer noticed the name that was lettered
on the window and then searched in the telephone book. Still keeping his eye upon the scene across the street,
he called the gentleman up. In a few moments he saw him start violently, and take down the receiver.
"Yes," said the lawyer through the telephone, "I should think you would start."

The victim whisked his arm from its former position and began to sammer something.

"Yes," continued the lawyer severely, "I think you'd better take that arm away. And while you're about it, as long as there seem to be plenty of chairs in the room—"

The victim brushed the lady from his lap, rather roughly, it is to be feared. "Who—the devil is this,
anyhow?" he managed to splutter.

"I," answered the lawyer in deep,
impressive tones, "am your conscience!" And then he hung up.—

Couldn't Then
"I would like mightily to enjoy riches."

"Then why don't you try to marry 'em?"
"As I said, I want to enjoy 'em."

Preferred to Wed the Witness
A colored divine in the south recently told Booker Washington of what, in his opinion, was the most extraordinary wedding ceremony he had ever witnessed, or, indeed, of which he had ever heard.

"Have you no witnesses?" asked
the officiating minister of a couple of negroes who had presented them-

Mrs. Housewife:

Do you know Bleached Flour is the most expensive for your use, because it contains less of the Gliadin of the Gluten and takes more yeast and sugar than it would to make the same amount of bread if you used MARVEL
unbleached flour. And besides, the U. S. Gov't. Food Commissioners have ruled that Bleached Flour is impure and that the manufacture and sale of it is to be stopped.

Surely you want your bread and pastry to be pure and wholesome. Then why wait—why not order, now, MARVEL Flour? It is made only from the highest grade wheat, in the good old fashioned, natural way,
and contains all the nourishing and health-giving qualities of purest wheat. It costs no more than Bleached Flour and goes a great deal farther. When buying baker's bread remember what Uncle Sam's experts say
—insist on its being made of MARVEL Natural Unbleached Flour.

seives for the performance of the marriage ceremony.

Both replied that they had not, expressing surprise that this formality
was at all necessary.

"Where kin we sit some witnesses?" asked the bride of the prospective groom, who, as well as herself,
was a stranger in those parts.

"I'll go an' look around an' see,"
said the man.

"All right, Jim," said the woman.
"You go an' I'll wait heah till you gits back."

Jim then set out as desired, and,
after a long while, returned with two young colored women, one of whom was considerably younger than the bride-to-be.

The parties were then properly disposed and the clergyman was about to proceed with the ceremony, when suddenly the groom exclaimed:

"Jest a minute minister."
"I was jest goin' to say dat, ef it's jest the same to you, I'd rather have that one," continued the man, with a gesture toward the young witness.

"That's a remarkable decision to make at this stage of the proceedings," returned the minister, amazed,
"fer'n it a little late to talk of such a thing now?"

"Dat so, minister?" queried the man, with a note of disappointment
in his voice. Then after a moment's pause he added, resignedly:

"Oh, well, I s'pose yo' might as well go on wid the ceremony."—

to rise to his feet and falling back in his weakness. "What has happened? Where is Yardley? Who are you, damn you—can't you speak? I know your voice."

"It seems you do not," Tankerlane
replied. "But I will enlighten you.
I am William Tankerlane."

"Tankerlane," he cried harshly.
"Here, Playle! Yardley! where are you? Why can't you answer? Why don't you come? Playle! Yardley!"

"It is no good calling to them,"
said Tankerlane quietly. "They have been washed overboard. You and I are the only two men on this vessel."

"Transom? where is he? What has happened to him?"

"I am Transom," Tankerlane replied.

"You?—Oh, I see; a very pretty little piece of acting. I congratulate you. What's your game, Tan-kerlane?"

"I chartered this boat to take me to Conasa Island. You are my guest—my honoured, if unwelcome guest."

"I'm afraid, I'm rather at your mercy," said Shil, "but don't imagine that I shan't make a fight for
it."

"My dear Shil," Tankerlane replied with a laugh, "I have no intention of coming to blows with you.
You have been punished enough already. But perhaps you would like to know that you owe your life to me. I was alone on Black Spit Island when I found you in the reeds.
It would have been easy enough for me to have returned to the boat and said nothing about it. You would have been dead by now."

Shil did not reply. He did not believe Tankerlane's statement, but,
even if he had done so, he felt but little gratitude to the man who had rescued him from death.

"I hope you realize," continued Tankerlane, "that if I had wished to get rid of you, I could have done so
by merely withholding my assistance.
Once, if I remember right, a man called out to you to save him from death, and you withheld the hand that would have saved him. In my case there was not even a cry for help. I had but to turn on my heel and walk away."

"What do you want of me?" asked Shil, who began to see that Tan-kerlane had some object in reminding him of this debt of gratitude.

"I want to impress on you that for the time being there must be a truce between us. We are, if you will excuse the pleasantry, in the same boat. Her big sail has come to grief, and gone over the side. She is at present bumping on a sandbank
which seems to be as hard as a rock.
Now I know nothing whatever about boats, or sailing, and you, I believe,
know a little. If you will tell me what to do, I'll do it. 'Twill be time enough for you and I to fight, when we've got safe to land."

"Where's the wind?"

"Is the jib set?"

"Yes, if you mean the little sail in the front."

WASHOUTS DELAY BURLINGTON TRAINS

Section Crews Hurried to Glen Haven to Repair the Damage, but Trains
Are Off Schedule

Several trains due to arrive in La Crosse on the Burlington during the afternoon and evening were several hours late yesterday on account of the washing out of the tracks at Glen Haven, Wis., Tuesday morning.

A large crew of men was sent to the scene as soon as possible to repair the damage but before the tracks could be put in order the trains all along the division had been thrown off the scheduled time.

No. 51 was delayed one hour, Nos. 52 and 54 four hours and No. 77 two hours.

RUSH WORK ON NEW COAST LINE FEEDS

Work will be pushed at once on four branch lines or "feeders" of the Pacific coast extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, which are to be the beginning of what will ultimately be a network of such lines, extending for several hundred miles on either side of the main track.

The $50,000,000 issue of 4 percent bonds, authorized by the state railroad commission last week, and which will be a lien upon the entire system of the road, will insure the completion at an early date of the branch already started from St. Maries, Idaho, and which will extend southward for more than one hundred miles, through one of the richest timber districts in the country. This district is at present practically a virgin field.

Work on three other lines west of the Missouri river has actually been started. One will run from McLaughlin, S. D., northwesterly for 150 miles through a rich agricultural district, which is rapidly growing. One from Moberly, Mo., will run west through the Indian reservation, between the Moreau and Grand rivers, for 120 miles, and a third from the same point southward to a point near the northern line of the Cheyenne Indian reservation.

The country contiguous to these lines is already well settled, and now raises grain and other products sufficient to justify the building of the lines, but it is said that the districts are growing so rapidly that the output will be more than doubled before the lines are completed. Plans are also under consideration for numerous other branches.

BRAIN FEVER TURNS INTO TUBERCULOSIS

Gerhard, the nine months old boy of Ed Forseth, 908 Mill street, died last evening after a few weeks illness with brain fever which later turned into tuberculosis. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the house, with Rev. Vik officiating. A. and O. Sletten are in charge.

GIVES DINNER TO '09 GRADUATES

In honor of Miss Margaret Roddy, Black River Falls, and a few of the graduates of the 1909 Class of the La Crosse high school, Harry O'Brien, 1645 Kane street, acted as host last evening at a seven o'clock dinner. The guests gathered before the feast for a social hour, talking over school matters and other things of interest to young people. In the evening the young ladies and gentlemen repaired to the parlor where music and games were indulged in until a late hour.

Those invited were Miss Margaret Roddy, Black River Falls; Frank Roddy, Hugh and Marion Moss, Howard and Beth Ryan, Fred Dickens, Grace Gesell, Florence Meyers, Harry Gatterdam, Stella Hyde and Newell Barber.

Meedames Harry Watson and Ryan assisted in serving.

A circle of friends is due to have "round."

FEEBLE WITNESS WAS LOCKED OUT

Mistake of Janitor Causes Inconvenience to Lawyer From Sparta

Owing to a misunderstanding of orders the doors of the county court house were locked yesterday by the janitor several times during the day, while Judge Brindley, county judge, and Registrar in Probate John Costley were conducting probate court.

As the regular probate day fell on the date of the county picnic, Messrs. Brindley and Costley were forced to remain at home and work instead of going to the picnic. As the doors were open part of the time and were locked without the knowledge of the court only a part of the cases to be heard were presented.

In a letter to the county judge this morning, Howard Teasdale, an attorney at Sparta, informed the judge that he had been in the city yesterday with an old man, 80 years of age, as a witness to a will and they were forced to return to Sparta without transacting their business as they thought the officials were all at the picnic. The man was so feeble that it was necessary to take two days for the journey and he had to stop over night at West Salem. He was carried from the cars to a carriage and had to be helped on and off the train.

STRIKEBREAKERS HOOTED

Union Sympathizers and

"Scab"; Union Men
Walk to Work

A strike breaker, evidently unfamiliar with the operation of the street car he was handling ran his car over a string of fire hose on Clinton street this morning, which was being used to sprinkle the rock being put into the new street pavement. The car was not going fast, but evidently the strike breaker decided he had the right of way, or was confused by lack of experience, continuing over the hose. The hose was mangled, but the car was not derailed.

The north side is a hotbed of unionism, and today very few of the working men who usually crowd the early cars boarded the taboored conveyances for their work. The causeway was filled with a long line of men walking to work this morning, many coming from the extreme upper end of the North side to their places of employment on the south side, afoot, rather than patronize the car company which has locked out the union men. It is evident the motto "We walk" is being lived up to by practically all of the union men on the north side, as well as citizens generally who are openly expressing sympathy with the locked-out men, for very few people indeed patronized the cars today.

Union men, residents of the North side and even children in the streets shouted "scabs" as the cars went by, and people who did venture to ride were hooted at in many sections of the North side. Some men and boys who rode on the cars were accosted

Theodore A. Bingham, who during recent years has ably served as police commissioner of New York city, it is reported, may succeed John E. Wilkie as chief of the United States secret service. This report cannot be officially confirmed at the present time but is generally conceded to be authentic.

by union sympathizers and respectfully asked to patronize the car company no more and in most instances they smilingly agreed to walk, and started off for their destinations afoot. In several instances where people stood upon the corners waiting for the irregular cars they were approached by union friends and asked not to board the cars and most of the people thus approached walked in preference to riding.

MISS SCHUMAN'S RECITAL

A very delightful recital was given by the pupils of Miss Ida Schuman assisted by Mrs. P. L. Cilley Monday evening at the home of C. H. Schweizer, 116 South Fourteenth street. Mrs. Cilley accompanied by Miss Lois Halik sang several solos which were very well received by the large audience composed of parents and friends of the pupils. The following young people took part in the program: Malcolm Rowles, Eleanor, Gretchen and Caroline Schweizer, George Bunge, Harold Oyen, Reginald Skaar, Lucile Cowles, Frank Funke, Ruth Hillstad, Alice and Harold Taylor, Kenneth Whyte, Marjory Gordon, Paul Egbert, Louis Knuteson, Charlotte Harpel, Ruth Vance and Lois Halik.

Mr. and Mrs. August Erickson announce the engagement of their daughter, Mora Matilda, to Mr. Will James Asselin. Their wedding will take place at St. James church Tuesday, June 29th.

CLUB GIVES FAREWELL

The B. B. D. club was entertained Monday evening by Miss Norma Partridge, 1433 Charles street, in honor of Miss Essie Long, who is soon to leave for her future home in Milwaukee. The evening was spent in games and music until a late hour when refreshments were served.

WEDDING OF MISS GERTRUDE ERSHAM AND WALTER NICHOLS

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ersham Tuesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Gertrude became the bride of Mr. Walter Nichols. Rev. Vance performed the ceremony. They were attended by Miss Grace Nicholls, sister of the groom and Mr. John Ersham, brother of the bride, and little Evelyn Jelide acted as flower girl. Only relatives and a few friends were present. The bride is well known here, having been born and raised in this city. The groom is from Lancaster, Wis., but for the last few years has been employed in the city. After the ceremony they sat down to a delightful supper to which all did justice. They received many costly and useful presents.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mrs. D. G. Whyte and son Kenneth left this noon for Milwaukee for a few weeks' visit with friends.

Miss Alice Baker of Dresbach spent the day in the city with friends.

Miss Marie Wheeler left Tuesday for Columbus and Lauderdale Lake. She will be absent till September.

DUTY IS THEIR CLASS MOTTO

"Do Your Duty, Let Come
What May," Proves to Be Feature of the Program

After finishing the work laid out for them at the St. Michael's and St. Ann's orphanages eleven orphans at the commencement exercises held at the school hall last evening on Tenth and Winnebago streets, were given diplomas.

The exercises consisting of essays, marches, hoop drills and recitations, were very well received by the large audience present.

The feature of the program was an essay entitled, "Do Your Duty, Let Come What May," by Miss M. Higgins. Miss Higgins said that everybody has their duties laid out for them and to lead the best life possible these duties should be performed at all times no matter what the circumstances may be. The speaker went on to say that many people in this world try to gain honor by accomplishing noble deeds, but while in the act of performing these deeds they forget all duty. A person who does his duty toward God, his neighbor and himself is the ideal man according to Miss Higgins. The young lady closed by giving the motto of her class, "Do Your Duty, Let Come What May."

The dumbbell and hoop drills by the Junior girls were appreciated very much, the young ladies going through their exercises without a break.

The program closed with the conferring of diplomas by Right Rev. James Schwebach, D. D.

The following is the program:

Vocal, "Night"—Graduates.
Essay, "Practice Makes Perfect"—J. Goodin.

Vocal, "June Song"—Kindergarten.

PUPILS' RECITAL

A very large audience was present last evening at the Pupils' Recital of the La Crosse School of Music. The program consisted of a variety of instrumental and vocal selections readings, etc., and each number was enthusiastically applauded by the audience. Notwithstanding the fact that the evening was oppressively warm and that this closing recital of the year comes at a time when there are many other programs being given by the city and parochial schools, the large attendance proves that an unusual amount of interest is being taken in the work of the La Crosse School of Music. The faculty concert tonight, June 23rd, will witness the close of a very successful year of work at the school and for those who attend a rare treat is in store. The program will consist of musical numbers interspersed with readings, etc. Those of the faculty who will give numbers will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ross, Miss Estelle Solon, Miss Edna Chadwick with Prof. Harry Packman as accompanist. Tickets are 35 cents. Many of those present last evening spoke especially of the pleasant and commodious recital hall which had been arranged for the occasion in one of the empty rooms on the first floor of the school building. Rugs, furniture and flowers tastefully arranged had turned a large, bare room into a convenient and pleasant apartment where it was a pleasure to be entertained.

TORE HIS SKIN OFF IN SHREDS

Itching was Intense—Humor Spread from Hands to Body—Work Interrupted and Sleep Often Impossible—Disease Resisted Treatment

BUT CUTICURA CURED HIM IN THREE WEEKS

"My trouble commenced about two years ago and consisted, at first, of an eruption of small pimples on my hands. These spread later to other parts of my body, and the itching at times was intense, so much so that I literally tore the skin off in shreds in seeking relief. The awful itching interfered with my work considerably, and also kept me awake nights. I tried several doctors and used a number of different ointments and lotions but received practically no benefit. Finally I settled down to the use of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent Pills, with the result that in a few days all itching had ceased and in about three weeks time all traces of my eruption had disappeared. I have had no trouble of this kind since. H. A. Kruttsch, 8714 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., November 18 and 28, 1907."

SKIN HEALTH

Effected by Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema, the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurement, as in acne and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in tetters, or salt rheum—all demand a remedy of extraordinary virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent (liquid or pills) are such stands proven by unquestioned testimonials.

is always half past twelve when the cook make meals.

Helped Hide Body.

"Leon call me to his room and I go."

"Was the girl there then?" asked Carey.

"I no see her. Before I go down stairs I see Leon pull out his trunk from corner of room, pulling out many big boxes. When I go into his room after he call, I no see Elsie. Only big trunk in room."

"Before that while he putting out trunk, Elsie lay still—very still on the bed. Only her face and hands and feet could I see."

And Chung walked over to the bed to indicate how the sheet was drawn about the girl's body.

"When I came into room after Leon call, he ask me to help him tie trunk and the many, many knois in rope."

"Where was the body then?"

"Me no know. It no in room. Gone. Me no know where."

"Then what happened?"

"Me no know. Me go away. Me

cook. Me go to restaurant."

Think He Knows Where Ling Is.

With a yellow Carey leaped for the bound man.

"Where's Leon?" he shouted.

For a moment the stolid, yellow face turned sickly pale. Chung Sin faltered and then said: "Me no know."

"You lie!"

But Chung Sin only smiled at this. He was taken to the police headquarters, where he identified the trunk in which the body was found as Leon's and also identified the canvas blanket in which the body was wrapped.

Detectives in a search of Leon's room while Chung Sin was under examination there found ashes of what appeared to be cloth in the stove. This gave rise to the belief that Leon burned the girl's missing clothing.

Chung Sin admitted he saw Leon tear the girl's waist off as she lay on the bed.

Continued Third Degree.

When Chung Sin was taken back to headquarters he was at once put in the hands of a fresh shift of detectives for a continuation of the "third degree."

Chung has confirmed the jealousy motive advanced by the police for the murder by saying he knew Chu Gain and Leon Ling both loved Elsie Sigel and that Leon was jealous of Chu Gain.

"They fight about that girl," said Chung. "Me see them fight. Leon told me he hate Chu Gain and Chu Gain tell me he hate Leon."

their power to preserve order.

Roast Strike Breakers

Yesterday a window in one of the cars was broken on the North side presumably by a missile thrown by a small boy. All non-union men on the cars on the North side lines are being harassed by boys and loungers in the streets, and on Mill street and the upper end of the loop the appearance of a car is the signal for cries of "scab," "unfair" and other epithets, but the strike breakers have so far controlled their temper and there has been no conflict.

FOUR STRIKE b. ykAf—Jfg.

Last night railroad torpedoes and in one case an obstacle, were placed on the tracks and a large crowd turned out to hoot the strikebreakers, but the cars were taken in before it became dark enough for the disturbers to get too bold.

Protect the Strikebreakers

L. A. Christianson, the man who is said to have broken the carmen's strike at Montgomery, Ala., in 1907, and has been the leader of the strikebreakers in the Chicago Teamster's strike of some years ago, is managing the force of strikebreakers here.

Extra men are being placed on all cars to protect the operatives from possible violence.

All of the union men in the city have been notified and almost all of the unions have held meetings and adopted resolutions similar to the following, adopted last night by the painters' and paperhangers' organization:

"Resolved, by the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers, in regular meeting assembled, that we, and all of our families, and friends walk in preference to riding on street cars manned by others than members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees."

MAUD ADAMS IN
JOAN OF ARC TRIUMPH

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 23.—"The greatest spectacle the world has ever seen."

That today is the opinion of thousands upon thousands of people who last night filled the stadium on Soldiers Field, Harvard, to witness the one night production of Schiller's Joan of Arc by Maud Adams, for which the actress has been preparing for years. Twenty-two thousand people massed on the tiers of the stadium while performers numbering 1,600 enacted the romantic story of the peasant girl of Orleans. Never in the whole span of the career of Miss Adams was such a tribute paid as this great gathering.

Border is Guarded

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 23.—Officers left here today for Rio Grande to watch the Mexican border to prevent Leon Ling, alleged murderer of Elsie Sigel, escaping into the southern republic. Police here have been requested by Commissioner Bingham of New York to watch for Leon, who is supposed to be headed for Mexico.

State rangers have been notified and the whole border is guarded. Special watch is being kept at Galveston, El Paso and other points where people usually cross the border.

Bad Temper-Wrong Food

Hard to Be Pleasant With Sour Stomach or Aching Head.

No man is proud of a poor day's work. No man prides himself on a nasty exhibition of temper. No woman wishes for a foul breath or a sallow complexion or for a perspiration with offensive odor. Yet you, dear reader, may have all these. Our friends do not always tell us of our physical shortcomings—they bear with us and excuse our faults.

Know Thyself. Health spells success and happiness. Ill health makes many a man and woman misunderstood. Drugs, impure air, darkness, bad water, bad food, or good food mixed badly—all injure the body because they set up destructive chemical processes.

E-C Corn Flakes or Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes are good food—neither will mix badly in the stomach. A breakfast of these crisp, delicious, tasty flakes with cream or milk and fruit starts the day right, and often these sensible breakfasts have restored to normal a physical frame racked by the poisons of rich, heavy foods that sour and destroy instead of digest and build up.

Remember it is only the famous Egg-O-See process that makes E-C Corn Flakes and Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes so delicious and healthful.

Roast Strike Breakers

Yesterday a window in one of the cars was broken on the North side presumably by a missile thrown by a small boy. All non-union men on the cars on the North side lines are being harassed by boys and loungers in the streets, and on Mill street and the upper end of the loop the appearance of a car is the signal for cries of "scab," "unfair" and other epithets, but the strike breakers have so far controlled their temper and there has been no conflict.

FOUR STRIKE b. ykAf—Jfg.

Last night railroad torpedoes and in one case an obstacle, were placed on the tracks and a large crowd turned out to hoot the strikebreakers, but the cars were taken in before it became dark enough for the disturbers to get too bold.

Protect the Strikebreakers

L. A. Christianson, the man who is said to have broken the carmen's strike at Montgomery, Ala., in 1907, and has been the leader of the strikebreakers in the Chicago Teamster's strike of some years ago, is managing the force of strikebreakers here.

Extra men are being placed on all cars to protect the operatives from possible violence.

COUNTY OFFICERS HAVE A GOOD TIME

Picnic at Dakota Park Is Filled With Humorous Situations and Incidents

If the sunburned visages of county officials are any criterion, the county picnic at Dakota park yesterday, in which all county officials and supervisors with the exception of two or three who were forced to remain at home and look after county business, participated, was a success.

Charles Rawlinson says it was a success, and so does John Swan, Sheriff "Bill" Duncan and John Kindley.

The party left the Singer wharf at about 9 o'clock in two launches and the trip was made to the park without event, unless the organization of a singing society with Wenzel Korn of the town of Washington as leader and John Swan as soloist can be called one. Director Korn drilled his aspirants to vocal honors thoroughly and the sweet cadences and long drawn climaxes of their beautiful effusions rose skyward could be heard at the government building, where weather forecaster E. C. Thompson was busily engaged in fixing up a (brain) storm, and readjusting the seismograph.

He delivered the rain at the park at about noon, and the big picnic was held partly indoors on account of dampness. Here the Mysterious Meikiejohn with his wand demonstrated some experiments in magic which were bewildering to some of the audience and caused them to rub their eyes and pinch themselves.

Supervisor John Kindley of the Seventeenth ward and W. A. Bradley of West Salem were elected as baseball captains, each selecting a team, one to represent the country and the other the city. The game was fast and furious, but it is alleged that "Dick" Davis who in some manner got into the city's side of the game purposely with the aid of Umpire Bradish, threw the game to the country members by a score of 3 to 2.

Bradish Arrested

Bradish was later arrested by the sheriff on a charge of "malfeasance in office" while serving as umpire, and arraigned before Judge Kleeber where he pleaded "not guilty." District Attorney James Thompson, however, was successful in convicting him on the testimony of Charles H. Rawlinson, who swore that Bradish held a position under the republican county board and also took money from the city of La Crosse under the pretense of being a democratic city surveyor. He alleged that this was sufficient proof of the unreliable moral character of the defendant and the jury found him guilty despite the valiant defense put up by the defendant's counsel, J. L. Pettingill.

Kangaroo Court

Yesterday was a busy day in the Dakota kangaroo court, for no sooner had Bradish paid his fine of twelve dollars for the jury and a cigar for his honor, than another prisoner was brought in by the sheriff, in the person of Wenzel Korn, who had been caught by Special Detective Hans Jacobs in the act of stealing eggs from Meikiejohn, the county magician. It was proven that the defendant had surreptitiously removed four dozen ostrich eggs from the right sleeve of the professor and he was sentenced to 100 years at hard labor as county fly catcher.

Frank Coburn received a similar sentence for maliciously removing spots from the cards of the magician.

John Hatz of the town of Bangor was caught flirting and winking his left eye at the person of Deputy Sheriff Earl Mengel against the peace and dignity of the town of Dakota, county of Winona, of the great state of Minnesota. He was ordered deported to Bangor, Wis., and to pay a fine of thirteen cents and costs amounting to five cents for each of the jurors.

James Marshall, deputy sheriff from the town of Hamilton, delivered a lecture on the topic, "How to be Successful Politically."

The party returned to La Crosse at a late hour.

QUAKE SHAKES UP
THE SACRAMENTO

CHICO, Cal., June 23.—The entire Sacramento Valley is today slowly recovering from a severe earthquake shock which shook every town in the valley about 11:25 o'clock last night. Beyond the shaking down of a few chimneys little damage was done by the tremor which lasted about fifteen seconds.

The shock was most severe at Marysville, Grass Valley and Nevada City, where house furnishings were scattered and windows broken.

ROBINSON ON TRIAL

NEW YORK, June 23.—Sanford Robinson, formerly director of the United Copper company and principal attorney for Arthur P. Heinze, was placed on trial before Federal Judge Ray today on the charge of conspiracy to defeat justice in the concealment or mutilation of the books of the United Copper company.

Arthur P. Heinze, whose trial had been set for today on similar charges, was granted a delay.

KING MENELIK DIES

ROME, June 23.—It is reported from Abyssinia today that King Menelik is dead and the empress, Taitu, has taken over the government, keeping his death a secret in order to enable her to name his successor and establish the new ruler in power before anyone can interfere.

NO CUT IN LUMBER AND LEATHER GOES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—A large majority against lower rates in the duty on lumber was disclosed today in the senate. The senate finance committee had reported in favor of the duty on rough lumber of $1.50 a thousand feet. McCumber (D. N. D.) introduced an amendment fixing the rate at $1.00 a thousand feet, the same as it appears in the Payne bill. It was defeated 24 to 44. The breaking of party lines was more pronounced than in any other vote that has been taken in the senate. Fourteen republicans voted for the lower rate on lumber and 11 democrats voted for the higher tariff, making a total of 25 insurgents.

The senate yesterday by a vote of 46 to 30 sustained the finance committee in its suggestion of a rate of 15 per cent on raw hides which were placed on the free list by the house committee.

The senate finance committee amendment to the lumber schedule reducing the Dingley rates by from 25 to 50 per cent and fixing the duty on dressed lumber planned or finished on one side at fifty cents a thousand feet was adopted by the senate by a vote of 50 to 28.

Senator Tillman gave Senator Aldrich the lie today. The price of dressing lumber had been given by Nelson as 50 to 75 cents. Aldrich said that when a groove was added it cost $2.50. Tillman protested. "I am not going to sit here and make an ass of myself by saying nothing when he presents a statement of that sort which I know is not true and which everybody who has ever been in a planing mill knows is not true," shouted the irate South Carolinian.

CORPORATION TAX
PLAN AGREED UPON

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—The details of the corporation tax plan agreed upon by the republican leaders as an amendment to the tariff bill are as follows:

A tax of 2 per cent on net earnings in excess of $5,000 of all corporations organized for profit.

All preferred and common stocks and bonds in excess of the total amount of capital will be subject to the tax.

Loss resulting from bad accounts, uncollectible notes or any forms not covered by insurance salvages, etc., may be deducted from the net earnings.

Insurance companies, including mutual and fraternal concerns, organized as profit making institutions will not be exempt.

Collection of the tax will be under the bureau of internal revenue for the treasury department, to which reports on their business must be made by corporations.

Only specially designated agents of the bureau will be employed to interrogate corporations regarding their business.

LA CROSSE GIVEN ATTRACTIVE BOOST

Diamond Jo Company Issues Booklet "Along the Mississippi" for Travelers

The Diamond Jo Packet company, operating steamers between St. Paul and St. Louis, has issued a booklet for the information of travelers bearing the title, "Along the Mississippi." The booklet contains many illustrations and writeups of the cities along the river, including a levee view and scenery on La Crosse. Under the caption "La Crosse, Prosperous and Beautiful," the booklet says:

"Men and nature played equal parts in the making of La Crosse. Business and beauty are the chief attributes of the city, stability and comfort its principal characteristics, wealth and culture its most notable embellishments.

"Nature furnishes the river valley, hemmed in by grand and rugged bluffs surrounded by rolling hills and fertile coulees. Comfort loving men marked this for an ideal residence spot and built up a city of homes. They paved the long streets and broad avenues and lined them on either side with trees. They laid out parks and drives, taking care not only to preserve but to adorn and embellish what nature had provided. They built beautiful homes, erected substantial business blocks and reared magnificent public buildings. With its rivers, parks, bluffs, miles of paved streets and shady drives and long blocks of comfortable homes surrounded by rich foliage, La Crosse is the most beautiful city of the upper Mississippi valley.

"La Crosse has a population of 33,000. Its citizenship combining the best and strongest characteristics of all the nationalities of which it is composed, those things which make for physical strength, mental soundness and moral correctness. This condition has begotten thrift, a fact which is evidenced by the large percentage of citizens who own their own homes and by the general stability of the city shown in its finely paved streets, modern business blocks and general air of prosperity so evident in every line of trade and business.

Great Jobbing Center

"La Crosse is a great jobbing and wholesale center. The five principal railroads passing through the city furnish an unrivaled outlet and put the La Crosse distributor in a position to compete with his brothers in Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis and even Chicago. The territory immediately contiguous is strictly a La Crosse field. It is bound to La Crosse by a hundred bonds of business, and it is to be still more closely bound by interurban railroads now building and others that are projected.

"A man of business who is not complete unless attention is given to the beautiful drives with which the city is surrounded. Shady nooks on the slopes of the hills and bluffs, views of indescribable beauty, changing with every variation of the sun's light, all enter into the list of features which remain long in the mind of the visitor, and are a constant source of pleasure and satisfaction to those who are so fortunate as to have their homes in this most favored spot. Chief of these is Grand old Granddaddy Bluff, from whose bald crest the gaze is permitted to stretch for miles up and down the bluff lined shores of the Mississippi and back into the country beyond the hill, where the fields are seen in the varied hues of the changing seasons.

Fine Fishing

"The sportsman in search of hunting or fishing can find them near La Crosse. The river and the nearby lakes furnish the greatest variety of fish, and the river bottoms abound in water-fowl which make it the hunter's paradise.

"La Crosse offers greater inducements to commercial institutions seeking new locations than any other city in the northwest. There is an abundance of the finest sites for factories; sites left vacant during the past few years by the removal of the great lumber mills. These sites are ideal in every respect and can be secured at reasonable figures.

"La Crosse has the finest of transportation facilities and organizations of business men which have large influence with the transportation companies in the matter of rate making. Five roads run into La Crosse: Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul; Chicago & Northwestern; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; Green Bay & Western; La Crosse & Southeastern. A new interurban line is to be built from La Crosse to Black River Falls. La Crosse is on the banks of the great Mississippi river which now offers unlimited transportation facilities, with regular packet service, and which, in the not far distant future promises to become the greatest transportation highway in the country."

COUPLE NARROWLY ESCAPE INJURY

SPARTA, Wis., June 23. — (Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Al Fulton had narrow escapes from death in a runaway yesterday and were lucky to receive injuries that were not serious as the result. Mr. Fulton was in the act of watering his horse and had removed the bits when the animal became frightened and threw him heavily to the ground, the buggy passing over his body and the horse's hoofs missing his head by a few inches.

The horse continued down the street at a mad pace and in making a sharp turn threw Mrs. Fulton to the ground, her foot catching in the wheel. She was dragged some distance before the frenzied animal was brought to a halt and she was released from the wheel.

Although she is past 60 years of age, she did not suffer any fractured bones.

Circuit Court Session.

Judge Higbee held a short session of circuit court in this city Monday, disposing of what business came up for settlement and going over the court calendar in preparation for the regular July term to be held starting July 12.

Turn Down Auto Factory.

The committee from the Citizens' club who investigated the automobile proposition in Milwaukee recently made unfavorable report on the matter and recommended that the proposition be turned down, which action was taken.

Another factory promoter, who wishes to start a clothing cabinet factory here, has signified that he is willing to take the stock subscribed for the auto factory and start a factory of this description to manufacture clothing cabinets for store use. The club will probably take some action on this matter in the near future.

Organize Baseball Team

At a meeting of Sparta's baseball enthusiasts held in the E. M. Perham store last evening, a baseball team was organized with the crack catcher, Flander, as captain and J. Spradling manager. Practice will be started at once on Tuesdays and Thursdays on the pickle factory grounds and the team will be picked from those out for practice. The first game will be with Cataract either on July 5th or 6th at which time that village will celebrate the fourth.

The Leo. Evenson Clothing Co., has generously donated the uniforms for the team.

The Sparta Tigers suffered another defeat, this time at the hands of Cataract and the score was 6 to 5.

The fire department was called to the C. M. & St. P. depot to fight a stubborn blaze which originated from the spark of a passing engine which set the water tank on fire. Owing to the intricate construction of the tank, the firemen were forced to fight the fight for two hours. The damage done was about $200, fully covered by insurance.

Two Pioneers Pass Away

Two of Monroe county's old and respected citizens passed away during the first days of this week. Alvin Geo. Welker who was born in Old Entay, O., in 1850 died at his home and was buried yesterday. He is survived by two children, besides his wife and two sisters.

Mrs. P. M. Carpenter passed away at the advanced age of 87 years. She is survived by six sons and two daughters. The funeral services were held yesterday from the late home, Rev. Brenner officiating and the interment was in Leon cemetery.

STATE OF NEW YORK } ss. Rochester, N. Y.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: "When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy."

Sworn to before me this 14th day of July, 1920

Change Food When You Feel Out of Sorts

"A great deal depends upon yourself and the kind of food you eat," the wise old doctor said to a man who came to him sick with stomach trouble and sick headache once or twice a week, and who had been taking pills and different medicines for three or four years.

He was induced to stop eating any sort of fried food or meat for breakfast, and was put on Grape-Nuts and cream, leaving off all medicines.

In a few days he began to get better, and now he has entirely recovered and writes that he is in better health than he had been before in twenty years. This man is 58 years old and says he feels "like a new man all the time."

CONSTABLE INJURED ARRESTING A WOMAN

TOMAH, Wis., June 23.—(Special.)—Alex Simpson, night watch, was seriously injured while trying to arrest Mrs. Linton, who was badly under the influence of liquor. She was in a barn back of Gondreck's building, with several other women, trying to quiet her at about 10 p. m.

She was lying on the floor in the barn with her feet towards him. As he reached over in the dark to take her hands she let drive with both feet, knocking his ribs into his lungs.

As soon as he could get help and get her into the buggy he was taken home and Dr. Winters summoned.

Two ribs were broken, and his lungs perforated so that they bled. Mr. Simpson says the woman was so drunk that she was crazy threatening to kill everybody and could not be calmed down.

SEINED TROUT; IS FINED BY COURT

Charles Hass was arrested and brought into county court this morning on a warrant sworn out by Game Warden George L. Kingsley, who charged that the defendant had seined for minnows in the La Crosse river and in so doing had captured young trout. He pleaded guilty and was assessed a fine of $10.00 and costs by the court, amounting to $18.95.

AFTER MAN HIGHER UP

CHICAGO, June 23.—Sensations promised by her attorney, F. B. O'Donnell, when the case of Ella Gingles, an Irish lace maker, was put on trial today on charge of larceny, were delayed by a continuance sought by the state. She is the girl who several months ago was found drugged, bound and gagged in the Wellington hotel here. O'Donnell declares he will introduce evidence to show that the girl was the victim of a white slave plot in which a man of national reputation was involved.

NEW YORK SWELTERS

NEW YORK, June 23.—New York awoke today in her third successive day of sweltering heat. Occasional gusts of wind tried their best to relieve the suffering of the early day but they were not the "cooling breezes" known to poets but rather blasts that felt as though they came across acres of red hot stove lids. Already fourteen lives have been claimed by the torrid wave, while scores of persons have been prostrated.

Frank Coate, employed in the car loading department of the Listman Milling company, while setting the brake on a box car this morning about 10 o'clock fell from the car alighting head first on the ground and injuring his head severely.

The stunned man was given as much attention as possible until the ambulance arrived to convey him to the La Crosse hospital. Dr. Maurer attended him and at the hospital, it was reported that the injuries were not serious and that the man was rapidly improving.

An impressive thing for a man to go is to tell the truth about how many cigars he smokes a day.

A woman can forgive her husband for anything, if nobody else will.

The thing that fascinates a man about a girl is the way she pretends to be afraid he might kiss her, so as to remind him.

THE DAILY MARKETS

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks. NEW YORK, June 23.—The stock market at the opening and in the early trading reflected renewed aggressiveness on the part of bull interests following heavy accumulation of stocks on the declines of the two preceding days of the week. Gains of one to two points were made in a number of leading issues. Nearly everything traded in joined in the general advance. Union Pacific preferred rose 1 1/2 points and the common advanced 1 1/2 points. The Interborough-Metropolitan issues were strong and the industrials showed strength.

11 a. m.—The market showed increased strength as the first four progressed with price movements to ward materially higher levels. Union Pacific attracted interest, the preferred selling at 103 1/2, while the common sold as high as 181. The general list in the forenoon showed gains ranging from substantial fractions to over three points.

Government bonds unchanged; others firm.

Noon.—There was no special change in the market conditions in the early afternoon. Union Pacific preferred and Reading continued to reflect most of the speculative interest with other stocks influenced to a great extent by covering of room shorts and some inside buying.

DIPHTHERIA HALTS MARCH OF TROOPS

Battery D Will Not Camp in La Crosse Next Month as Has Been Expected

Official advice from the officers at Fort Snelling stating that Battery D, of the Fifth field artillery, which was expected to pass through the city about July 2 enroute to the encampment at Sparta, would not arrive here at that date owing to an outbreak of diphtheria among the soldiers, was received yesterday by Mayor Ori Sorensen.

The soldiers, it is understood, had made arrangements with local dealers for supplies and other articles, and had also scheduled a baseball game with some local team, all of which is called off by the officers of the battery.

MRS. GOULD PLAYS HER INNING TODAY

NEW YORK, June 22.—Katherine Clemmons Gould had her inning today in her suit for separation from her millionaire husband, Howard Gould. In great contrast with her experience of last week she sat smiling and happy, while witnesses told of her past life from far different points of view and far different language from the testimony introduced in her husband's behalf. Witness after witness told of having known Mrs. Gould for years and having seen her almost daily and each one swearing that she was never under the influence of liquor and never cursed.

Impeaches Chauffeur

She was most pleased of all when James H. Paulsen, who was manager of the production of the play, "The Virginian," in which Dustin Farnum played in 1906, swore that on the last night of the week's engagement in Brooklyn, in September of 1906, he accompanied Mrs. Gould and Farnum in an automobile from Brooklyn to New York after the play. The chauffeur, who drove the car had testified for Gould that Mrs. Gould and Farnum were the only passengers in the machine that night. The chauffeur also said that he had driven Mrs. Gould and Farnum from Brooklyn on several nights of that week. Paulsen said he never saw Mrs. Gould and Farnum together except on the last night of the Brooklyn engagement when he drove with them.

Rooms Far Apart

When he left the stand Paulsen walked over to Mrs. Gould and shook hands with her. She smiled and thanked him for his testimony. Wm. W. Lynch, proprietor of the Carroll house at Lynchburg Va., also proved a strong witness for Mrs. Gould. He swore that the apartments occupied by Farnum when he and Mrs. Gould were at the hotel, were two floors above hers and far removed. He introduced checks and bills showing that charges were made for only one meal served for two persons in her apartment. In general his testimony was strongly contradictory to that given by the negro waiter who appeared for Gould.

Lynch said that Mrs. Gould's behavior was above criticism.

GREAT COLLEGES TEACH IMMORALITY

NEW YORK, June 23.—Bishop James A. McFaul of Trenton, in his address to the graduates of St. Francis Xavier college, said:

"Harvard, Yale and Princeton are undermining faith and teaching immorality. If the Catholics who are sending their sons to these universities knew of the rascality, immorality and the disrespect for womankind that is being taught in these institutions, they would tear down the buildings."

STILL AFTER CALHOUN

SAN FRANCISCO, Ca., June 23.—Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Heney is confident that he will yet bring about the conviction of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, on a charge of bribery, notwithstanding the fact that seven months of trial of Calhoun resulted in a disagreement.

"There are two questions I want to ask Calhoun," said Heney today. "I want to ask him what became of the $200,000 which Calhoun's counsel, Tiley L. Ford, drew from the United States mint."

Calhoun's retrial has been set for next Monday.

FORMER ATTORNEY GENERAL WEDDED

MADISON Ws., June 23.—(Special.)—Former Attorney General L. M. Sturdevant, confidential advisor to the governor, surprised Madison friends by announcing yesterday that he was quietly married to Miss Mary Williams here last evening. They will go on a trip to the Yukon exposition.

state that with this sketch at the Bijou the house will be crowded nightly.

Meyer Levi sang in excellent voice, the illustrated song, "Red Wing."

Even when we build castles in the air we should be prepared to have our ups and downs.

AT THE BIJOU

The performance at the Bijou this week is of unusual merit, an excellent bill being put on by the management.

La Adelia, the dancing sunbeam, gives a demonstration of the Terpsichorean art that eclipses anything ever seen on the Bijou stage. With a pleasing stage appearance and grace that is beyond comparison, the young lady dances herself into favor with the audience.

Kramer and Scheck, those husky specimens of perfect manhood, present an excellent high mounting and acrobatic sketch. The larger man of the two has wonderful physical development, in fact so large is he above the waist line that the rest of his body seems to have received little attention his lower limbs being but of the ordinary size. After the sketch he gives examples of a few very simple breathing exercises which should be taken every morning upon arising exhibiting his own physique as an example of the results.

The Tyrolean Quintette present a very unique and entertaining singing and yodling act. They are the genuine foreigners, singing mostly songs of their native land. They retired high favorites with the assemblage.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marston, in their act, "I'm Glad I'm Married"

CHARLES MARSTON

was the feature of the evening's performance and an act that is seldom seen on a local vaudeville stage. Mrs. Marston is a dainty, petite, little woman and completely captivated the audience with her charming ways. She rendered several songs which received an unusual amount of applause from the audience. Mr. Marston's tragic impersonations are something out of the ordinary and exhibited the young man's extraordinary histrionic talents. A scene taken from Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde is perhaps the best in the performance, this very difficult part being taken with an ease and familiarity that denotes the accomplished actor. It is safe to
